What you might find in your library today...

St. Joe's Library is not a library for those looking for a stereotypical institution. It is a hub of activity with: classes working on research assignments, students working on computers, chess and scrabble being played, students artwork and projects being exhibited, small groups getting together to prepare for tests, and quiet corners grabbed by those who wish to read silently. You will find frequent changes upon the bulletin boards as new themes begin to pop up, while new books and resources often arrive on a weekly basis; so visit the library frequently in order to be a part of the most interesting place in the school.
